

Your FAQs Answered

Where are you?

We are located in central Scotland, just 2 minutes from the M8 motorway and only 30 minutes from the centres of Edinburgh and Glasgow, ideal for access to all areas of Scotland. Edinburgh airport is 15 minutes away allowing direct access to the rest of the UK and overseas.

How will you photograph our day?

Quite simply, we document your day as it unfolds, capturing all those moments and emotions as they happen in our artistic photojournalistic style. Due to the unique way that we work, you are free to enjoy your day spending precious time with your family and friends. 90% of the time you will be unaware that you are being photographed.

Who will photograph our wedding?

Trevor and Faye Yerbury are professional photographers and will work together, offering skilled observations of your day from different perspectives, creating memorable images that you will cherish forever.

Can we have some formal groups?

Yes, of course. However we do suggest that in order to keep your day running as smoothly as possible, these are restricted to between 6 and 10, taking fifteen to twenty minutes to complete.

How many photographs do you take?

That of course depends on several factors, including the weather! However, as a general guide we would take up to 1000 images and after cropping we would present 300-500 images for selection.

How many photographs do I get in an album?

Our traditional wedding album can hold between 100 and 150 images, while the more contemporary "wedding books" can hold up to 200. Many of our clients have 2 albums.

Who will we be dealing with?

We are full-time photographers dedicated to providing our clients with a personal service that is second to none. If you are not dealing directly with Faye or Trevor, then you will be speaking to their PA, Jilly Hamilton. Jilly has been with Faye and Trevor for over 10 years and has invaluable knowledge of the wedding industry.

Many brides have left us with valuable knowledge gained from our combined experience dealing with some of the leading wedding venues and suppliers in the UK.

If you require any further information, just call us on the number below or visit our website

Telephone: 01501 744909

www.yerburyweddings.com